FRIDAY 06-09-2019

For a long time, Veenhuizen was a self-sufficient town in the east of the Netherlands. It's a prison village. All around the town of Veenhuizen there are sayings on houses. They were often meant to give prisoners the right example like 'working is a blessing'. Sometimes the sayings referred to the residents of the house. "student by example" was the principal's house and 'Bitter and Sweet' was the pharmacist. Veenhuizen is a former colony of the Society of Charity, a Unesco nominated world heritage site. We visit three locations in Veenhuizen.

Beer Brewery Maallust

The Maallust brewery is housed in what once was the gristmill. Our copper tanks are beneath the old roof and the remains of the drying machines. We will have a guided tour with beer tasting!

Cheese factory Kaaslust

Kaaslust is traditionally crafted in the original dairy factory of Veenhuizen agricultural community. We will have a guided tour with a cheese tasting!

Prison museum

Crime and punishment have always existed, but our method of punishment has changed considerably over the centuries. Do you know what a prison used to look like? And how prisoners were dealt with? You'll discover all about punishments of the past and present at the Prison Museum. You're free to wander about and see things like the sleeping cages!
